JUST A LITTLE ABOUT JAMES BRANCH CABELL

Mr. Cabell is to me a very pleasant voice over the telephone. I called him up when I reached Richmond. He lives five miles out of town. He had already joined the Star Author Series of Matrimonial Adventures through the solicitation of Mr. Joseph Hergesheimer. I wanted to talk to Mr. Cabell about his story for the series, but the warm sunshine and the spring flowers that the New Yorker sometimes erroneously associates with Virginia were visiting elsewhere. It was snowing when I arrived and Richmond had become a jeweled city of gleaming icicles when I left the next morning. I did not meet Mr. Cabell, because the roads to town did not take kindly to the weather and motor traveling was

If James Branch Cabell had written nothing else, as the author of "Jurgon" alone he would have a unique place in American letters. But Mr. Cabell's other books are an additional reason for his high place in American literature. The special election in Minnesota to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Nelson will be another straw showing which way the is blowing. Last year both the Democrats and the Republicans lost to the Farm-Labor party in the senatorial election in Minnesota and now will come another test of strength. With the loss of a seat in Colorado caused by the death of Senator Nicholson and the appointment of a Democrat to succeed him, to lose another seat in Minnesota would reduce the Republican majority in the senate almost to the zero point. Naturally the Republican organization will put up a bitter fight to retain this seat in the senate.

But few will find cause for serious alarm in even the most fore. boding aspects of the situation, for they may confidently rely upon the sound good sense and abounding patriotism of the American peo ple to steer clear of the pitfalls dug by these undermining agencies. Dr. A. Ross Hill, former president of the state university, brought the cheering news that soviet Russia was in the grip of radical coterie and not of a powerful communistic minority. He de. clared that communists were rarely seen in Russia and that the end of the bloody regime, resting upon a few individuals, was imminent.

All of which is extremely encouraging to those who have feared that this country was in danger of being Russianized. Certainly there is no reason to fear that America will be handed over to the radicals, though there are many proofs that ceaseless vigilance is necessary.

Points Out Civic Importance and Training Through Band Enlistment.

An appeal in the interest of an important civic move as well as a patriotic duty has been issued by Fred Schreiber, warrant officer in charge of 160th artillery band, which is at present stationed at Holdenville.

Schreiber stated that if a dozen additional recrpits could be secured from the Ada vicinity, the regimertal could be brought to Ada and thus afford the city with another band of worthy merit.

The present band, which consists of about 28 pieces, claims several Ada players who are inconvenienced by the headquarters of the unit being at Holdenville. Schreiber stated that several objections had been offered by parents of prospective applicants for enlistments on the ground that they feared their sons would be drawn into the national army and that dangers would be incurred through their enlistment.

Schreiber pointed out a wellknown fact in state military circles, that the Oklahoma National Guard is composed of some of the best manhood in the state and that service in the national guard serves as an important training.

The present Ada members of the regimental band are college and high school students who have taken advantage of the national guard band training opportunity to gain experience and receive an adequate financial bonus.

Schreiber stated that enlistment papers for only ten band members are now on hand and urges that anyone interested see him for further information.

Pastor Whitwell Personally in Charge of Construction of New Edifice.

News reporter made a visit to new Presbyterian church building Saturday afternoon and found Pastor Whitwell busy with hammer and nails helping his force of carpenters with the roof of the main building. The brick work was com-pleted Friday and no time is being lost in putting on the roof. Dr. Whitwell said that if the weather continues favorable, the tinners can begin work Tuesday and should almost complete the work within the week. Th roome is already complete on the manse part of the building.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

FULFILLING THE LAW: -Owe no man anything, but to love one another; for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law .- Romans 13:8.

FACISTI IN AMERICA

The Italian Facisti has come to America. Not. however, as an instrument for the overthrow of the government, but "to redeem the good name of Italy, discredited by bootleggers, criminal and evil-doers."

No member of a Socialist, Communist or Syndicalist body is entitled to membership in the organization, which essentially is opposed to the doctrines of Lenin and Trotzky, as witnessed in the recent upheaval in Italy. There is believed to be some 2,000 potential members among Cleveland Italians, a large representation at Youngstown, and eight hundred or more in New York City.

If the sole aim of the Facisti in America is to fight radicalism, its ideals are commendable. If, however, its aim is the promotion of the cause of Mussolini, the country should know it. It is to be hoped that the new order will make its influence felt for good among the many Italians in the United States, who are fast becoming a power in many section.—Ex.

Courtney Ryley Cooper, author, ecturer, circus man and expert on ungle animals, began life as. a lown in a small circus. Mr. Cooper says that he ran away from nome for the first time to join the Buffalo Bill Wild West show at the age of five, and that after that, regularly two or three times a year, the rest of the Cooper family spent most of its time dragging him home whenever a circus came to his town, Kansas City. When he was fifteen he made the final breakaway, becoming a clown at the magnificent salary of five dollars a week. After about five years of this he began to mix the circus business with that of the newspa-per and left the "white tops" to become a reporter for the Kansas City Star. He then successively was a special writer for the Star, was a special writer for the Star, the Chicago Tribune, the New York World and the Denver Post, when he again went back to the circus to become press agent of the Sells-Floto circus, and personal representative for Col. William F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill." Later still be become general trees. e became general manager of the Sells-Floto circus.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 19.—The greatest crowd that ver witnessed sporting event will attend the annual international 500-mile austage full of queer apparatus, the tomobile race here May 30, in the harnessing of a quarter million opinion of officials of the Indiana. polis Motor Speedway, where the

Last year's crowd, announced as 135,000, will be topped by 15,000 this month-end, if the advance sale indicates anything, it was said. The sales to date were declared to be many thousands ahead of the mark at this time last year.

There are three new elements which tend to make the coming event the most interesting in years. since 1914; the initial trials of racing motors of not more than 122 cubic inches piston displacementonly about two thirds as large as the smallest motor in pleasure cars in the United States-and the introduction of rotary valve engines in the racing game.

The speedway track, which has been declared by many leading driv. ers to be the "sportiest" course in the country, is oval in shape. Each lap is equivalent to 2 1-2 miles, requiring 200 laps for the 500 miles. The bed of the course is brick. Another feature of anniversary week is a movement for centraliza. tion of denominational activities. This movement had its inception in the general Conference of Unitarian churches, organized in 1865, of which Chief Justice Taft has been president for four years. A commission of the general conference will make a statement to the ican Unitarian Association on Tues. day, and will present several motions to amend the by-laws of the association, which cannot act upon these proposed amendments until a year hence. The commission suggests that the general conference be amalgamated with the Ameri. can Unitarian Association,

"At the present time," the com-mission adds, "the general conference is the de jure government of our churches, whereas the Association is the defacto government of our denomination. Cotton Mills Reduce Output

SHANGHAI, May 18 .- The cotton mills of Shanghai have agrees to a reduced production schedule for a period of 60 days, that wil cut their output by 50 per cent. This was brought about under an agreement approved by the Cotton Mill Owners' Association, and was caused by a weak and falling market for yarn at a time when high prices were ruling for raw cotton.

It was estimated that stocks of yain in the hands of mills and merchants in Shanghai ran to 100,000 bales.
